

PACKAGING CONTAINER

ABSTRACT

A substantially translucent packaging container includes two adjacent chambers:
a first chamber for holding unprepared product and a second chamber for holding a 5 sample or reasonable facsimile of the unprepared product in prepared form. The first chamber is sealed with a removable cap for ready access to the unprepared product, while the second chamber is generally not meant to be opened.